

Name:

Directions:

- Listen as your teacher reads the sentences to you.
- Circle words you need to practice.
- Practice reading the sentences fluently.
- Draw a picture to show the meaning.

When a volcano erupts, it makes loud rumbling sounds. The lava flows down the sides and makes new land.

Name:

Directions:

- Listen as your teacher reads the sentences to you.
- Circle words you need to practice.
- Practice reading the sentences fluently.
- Draw a picture to show the meaning.

Did you know volcanoes can have fiery red lava?
It's so hot that it can melt rocks and make them turn into liquid.

Name:

Directions:

- Listen as your teacher reads the sentences to you.
- Circle words you need to practice.
- Practice reading the sentences fluently.
- Draw a picture to show the meaning.

Some volcanoes are tall and pointy, while others are wide and flat. They can be different shapes and sizes.

Name:

Directions:

- Listen as your teacher reads the sentences to you.
- Circle words you need to practice.
- Practice reading the sentences fluently.
- Draw a picture to show the meaning.

Volcanoes can be found on land and underwater.
They are part of Earth's powerful forces that shape the land.

Name:

Directions:

- Listen as your teacher reads the sentences to you.
- Circle words you need to practice.
- Practice reading the sentences fluently.
- Draw a picture to show the meaning.

The lava from a volcano cools down and hardens into rock. It can create new islands or form mountains.

Name:

Directions:

- Listen as your teacher reads the sentences to you.
- Circle words you need to practice.
- Practice reading the sentences fluently.
- Draw a picture to show the meaning.

Ash and smoke come out of a volcano when it erupts. They can go high up in the sky and block the sunlight.

Name:

Directions:

- Listen as your teacher reads the sentences to you.
- Circle words you need to practice.
- Practice reading the sentences fluently.
- Draw a picture to show the meaning.

People who study volcanoes are called volcanologists. They learn about how volcanoes work and help keep people safe.

Name:

Directions:

- Listen as your teacher reads the sentences to you.
- Circle words you need to practice.
- Practice reading the sentences fluently.
- Draw a picture to show the meaning.

When a volcano is active, it means it can erupt.
Some volcanoes sleep for a long time before waking up again.